Domestic performance drivers

HIGHLIGHTS

- The South African Reserve Bank kept interest rates unchanged at 6.75%, partly due to inflation which slowed to 4.1% in February;
- The much-anticipated credit review from Moody's delivered no change in credit rating or outlook;
- The South African equity market delivered one of the best quarters in some time, benefitting from improved global sentiment and a rally in commodity prices.

LOW POINTS

- Load shedding returned and progressed to stage 4, causing consumers and industrial operators much distress;
- The National Energy Regulator of South Africa (NERSA) announced a 9% electricity tariff increase, following Eskom's higher request;
- Further downward adjustments were made to economic growth by different institutions such as the International Monetary Fund, the National Treasury and the South African Reserve Bank.

Global performance drivers

HIGHLIGHTS

- The US government shutdown came to an end, and Trump seems to have moderated his behaviour over recent months;
- Improvement in relationships between the US and China, with the trade talks appearing to be constructive, and both sides suggesting real progress is being made;
- Even though the UK Parliament remained deadlocked over Brexit, it would appear that the probability of an economically damaging hard Brexit has significantly diminished.

LOW POINTS

- Disappointing economic data release and a deteriorating economic outlook, which saw the shift in central bank policy guidance;
- In March, the short end of the bond yield curve inverted, leading to an equity market sell off in that month and a rally in the bond markets. The inversion of the bond yield curve has historically been regarded as one of the early warning signs to trigger a recession;
- Returns from Europe remained weak, representing the epicentre of economic growth concerns and business contending with Brexit's uncertainty.

Fund Contributors and Detractors – Q1 2019

CONTRIBUTORS THIS QUARTER

- The general domestic equity carve-out did well for the quarter, led by the rand-hedges. BHP Group (+21.7%), British American Tobacco (+29.5%) and Anheuser Busch Inbev (+26.7%) rose sharply despite only moderate rand weakness.
- The property holding, Capital and Counties (+8.0%), moved higher.
- The offshore equities exposure took part in the rally given the shift in central bank policy guidance that saw the Fed and the ECB stating that they no longer expect to raise interest rates in 2019.

DETRACTORS THIS QUARTER

- Underweight allocation to the resource sector (platinum and gold in particular), which continued to do well over the period and the past year.
- Given disappointing economic activity and increased concerns around weaker SA GDP growth, performance of most SA domestic sectors was weak. This negatively impacted our allocation to the mid-small cap sector.
- Other several holdings (EOH, Aspen, Advtech) also faced stock specific concerns. For example, Aspen traded down -31.0% for the quarter, following results which offered little in terms of top line growth but lots in terms of balance sheet issues.
